Superintendent's Report

To the School Board of Cornish:

My tenth annual school report is hereby offered for your consideration.

The fall term of schools was opened on Tuesday, the fourth day of September. Owing to the small prospective membership at the Brick school and at No. 14 the State Board declined to continue state aid for the maintenance of those schools. The local school board therefore voted to discontinue the schools. They arranged for the transfer of the pupils of No. 14 to the Cornish Flat school, and for the transfer of the Brick School children to the school at South Cornish. Permission was also granted to the school board of Plainfield to transfer ten children from the Plain to the Tracy School. Five schools are in charge of new teachers; two of them by transfer within the district. Six teachers have teaching experience of more than three years and two are inexperienced normal graduates.

There were found by the September census one hundred and sixty-eight children (5-16) living in town. On September 30 one hundred and forty-eight of these were registered in local schools, seven in secondary schools outside, and two attending elementary school outside. Of the eleven children not attending school, nine are below the compulsory age, one (8-14) is excused because of inability to benefit by instruction, and one (14-16) has completed the course of study for elementary schools.

The table below exhibits the teacher's name, the fall term enrollment, and the Dec. 21 membership of the respective schools:

Teacher	School	Enrollment	Dec. 21 Membership

HEALTH

This year the services of Miss Alta MacDonald, R. N., were secured as school nurse. She has had much experience both in hospital nursing and in school health work. She devoted three weeks during the months of October and November to work in Cornish schools. She reports twenty-three visits to the schools, and an examination of one hundred and sixty-eight children. She made thirty-five home visits. She accompanied eighteen children to the dentist and six children to the oculist. Her most important service however was to gain the cooperation of the teachers in the health activities and to make clear to them the necessity of encouraging the children in the practice of those hygienic laws which tend toward the maintenance of perfect health.

GENERAL STATISTICS

For the Year Ending June 30, 1928.

The total membership was 162; the average membership, 138; the per cent of attendance, 94.49. Thirteen pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the year:— Philip Wardner, Ella Cheever, Lawrence Dole, Waneta Manley, James Marden, Roland Keniston, Norris Weld, Mary Deming, Myra Hood, Rodney Palmer, Myrtie Rollins, Mary Kieley, Ray Kielev. Eight Cornish children were registered in Kimball Union Academy, seven in Windsor High, and four in Stevens High. Five Cornish children attended elementary school in Windsor at private expense and one attended Spencer school in Plainfield at the district's expense. The schools were maintained for thirty-six weeks. They were actually in session 348 half-days.

The registers record nine school visits by members of the Board, 190 visits by the superintendent, and 270 visits by citizens.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

During the spring it became evident that the school house at Dingleton had become unsafe for school occupancy. At the annual district meeting in March the sum of $1700 was raised and appropriated to build and equip a new school house. As the new building was located on the site of the old one, the contract involved the additional expense of tearing down the old brick building. Most careful specifications were worked out for a building that would meet the educational needs of the school but without any elaboration of design. The Board advertised for bids. Several were received, and the contract was awarded to Geo. D. Graham, the lowest bidder. The building was erected during the summer. The items of cost will be found in the Board's report.

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW P. AVERILL.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

Your library has indeed been a busy place all the year whenever open for visitors. Each year brings us many new patrons while we miss those who are no longer near enough to visit us. It has been a very real pleasure this year to send out assortments of books to several parties unable to come and choose them. We wish more would ask this of us.

This year most of the Branch exchanging has been done through the mails, costing less money but depriving us of the personal contact with the schools. The lowered postal rates for library books is 3 cents for the first pound and one cent per pound thereafter. A person at a distance might well ask for a dozen or so books at a time and the mailing expense would not be large.

We have had the floors nicely done over and that gives our rooms a "well groomed" appearance, we think.

Generous gifts of books have been received from several of our friends including Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Thornburgh, W. E. Beaman, Burton Blanchard, Mrs. C. H. Weld and others; also several valuable volumes from the library of our former townsman, Mr. Geo. L. Deming. These include bound volumes of every annual Town Report of Cornish from 1850 to 1911. We are now anxious to complete the file but lack some of the copies. Who will help us? Of all these several gifts we are truly appreciative.

We would like to ask every one of our townspeople to come in, when convenient, and sit by the fireplace in the children's room a while and watch the "Little People" as they plainly demonstrate that they consider this their library.

We have regular visitors of two and three years taking books which they choose themselves. We have tried to keep our shelves well supplied for these as well as those of older years. Never a year have we had so many calls for reference books and classics for school use by the pupils, as this year.

Sincerely yours for service,

ALMA A. BROWN,
